The electroporator able to convey cosmetics and cosmeceuticals

The continuous search for new, higher performing technologies in the cosmetic and aesthetic medical field led Mantis engineers to develop ESSENTIAL, the electroporator able to convey cosmetics and cosmeceuticals with creamy textures and serums through the skin, exploiting the electrical properties of connective tissue.

Handpieces

Its two special FACE and BODY handpieces make it possible to treat every area, even the smallest ones.

The FACE handpiece, with a 28 mm diameter, allows the efficient treatment of blemishes even in the smallest parts of the face, such as around the eyes and lips. Its ergonomic design makes it particularly easy to handle and use.

The BODY handpiece, with a 60 mm diameter, allows the precise and practical treatment of larger areas of the body in a short time. Its unique rounded shape also makes it particularly smooth to use.

The convenient and safe grip make the body handpiece a pleasure to use even during longer sessions.

Electroporation

A new, non-invasive parenteral method allowing the active ingredients of serums and creams to be delivered in depth. Thanks to a series of mild electric pulses, the “channels” (electropores) of the tissue structures are opened, activating the interstitial and intracellular fluid flows that allow the active ingredients of the products used during the treatment to penetrate the skin, thus obtaining the desired results.

Our results are your success stories!

ESSENTIAL face and body treatments have demonstrated amazing and constant results over time, right from the very first sessions. The body's silhouette proves more defined, as if it were sculpted and remodelled, and the tissues are toned and re-oxygenated. On the face, volumes appear more compact and repositioned, wrinkles are more subdued, skin texture is visibly improved, re-oxygenated and toned.
